

ACT/SAT Test Preparation Resources

Taking a rigorous high school curriculum and doing well is the best way to prepare for the ACT and SAT. But you can also try to boost your scores by using study guides found online, in libraries, bookstores, and in the Counseling Office. Some students do best taking prep classes. There are many providers, and while the Counseling Department does not endorse any particular one, this is a partial list of local programs that students have found success with in the past:

1) FREE online resources:

Go to “Plan It” tab and Click on “Assessments and Training”

Provides FREE online practice tests for ACT, SAT, PSAT, AP, TOEFL, GRE etc.

2) FREE Full-Length Practice Tests (Available to pick up in the Counseling Office)

- We have paper practice test booklets with answer keys that students can come pick up to practice sections or to take the whole test on their own.
- We also have test prep books they can check out, or they can visit the local library to check out test prep books.

3) Forest Hills Foundation for Education Events

Once or twice a year the FHFE hosts practice tests for ACT/SAT and ACT Blitz prep days. These are usually advertised to parents through email when they are available.

4) Summer School Test Prep Courses

This course is open only to residents of Forest Hills School District and is designed to help students build an awareness of the types of questions on the SAT/ACT, teach students test-taking strategies, and allow students the opportunity to practice questions found on the SAT/ACT. Enrollment is limited.
